

It has been such a relief to not receive unwanted solicitor's calls. As senior citizens we do not need to get calls especially in the evening. The solicitors are selling things that we already have, or cannot use at this stage of our lives; some are so insistent that it can be upsetting to the elderly. It was just as inconvenient when we were younger and had a family to attend to. I appreciate New Jersey's law on the Telephone Consumer Protection Act.